Prerequisites
There are no prerequisites for this course

Brief Course Description
Introduction to Marketing is a 10 Credit Point course within the Diploma of Commerce and the Diploma of Hotel Management. The Diplomas of Commerce and Hotel Management are designed to provide students with a pathway to:
• further university studies in Commerce, Business and related degrees or
• direct employment.

Introduction to Marketing provides an introduction to understanding the marketing function in organisations. The course focuses on the relationships between the organisation and consumers via the marketing mix (product, price, place and promotion).

Rationale

As a professional within business or commerce, marketing skills and knowledge are essential. An understanding of the customer and how planning within an organisation can positively affect customer relationships is paramount to the ongoing success of a business. Sustainable long-term plans for the development and delivery of products commence with an appreciation of the customer, the market and society, the marketing mix, and the ability to develop and implement an effective marketing campaign.

Aims

Marketing is not so much a business discipline as a business philosophy. Marketing is about putting both customers and consumers at the centre of a company’s thinking. Companies with a marketing focus understand their businesses in terms of the needs and wants of their customers. This course provides the foundational knowledge to help students to formulate, at a basic level, innovative solutions to meet those needs and wants.

Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of this course you will be able to:

1. Demonstrate a broad understanding of core marketing concepts and marketers responsibilities in society
2. Explain the role of marketing in the organisation as a response to the needs and wants of customers
3. Apply frameworks and tools for critically analysing and evaluating customers, competition and strategy within a marketing problem context
4. Develop a marketing project (campaign) that formulates innovative solutions supported by marketing literature for a timely case-based problem
5. Outline the influence of market research on marketing decision making
6. Demonstrate oral and written communication skills
7. Undertake a basic critical analysis of secondary data relevant to issues concerning the marketing project

Organisation and Teaching Strategies

Your learning will take place within three types of learning contexts. These include:

Lectures (2 hours per week): The purpose of the lecture is for you to engage in a summary of the content knowledge needed to be able to understand the topic of the week and to be able to complete relevant class activities. You will be required to analyse, discuss and debate current marketing problems and raise questions if information is unclear. It is essential for you to download and read the lecture notes and read the relevant chapters in the textbook prior to the lectures to understand the subject matter more clearly (see content schedule). It is recommended that you print and bring the lecture notes to each lecture.

Tutorials (1 hour per week): The purpose of the tutorial is for you to apply the information you have learnt from your textbook and from the lecture to in-class activities, analyse business situations and discuss ideas with other students. You will be required to prepare answers to weekly questions and cases available on the portal before each tutorial. You will also give your oral presentations during scheduled periods as indicated in the content schedule.

Workshops (1 hour per week): The purpose of the workshop is to enable you to learn specific skills to assist with the Team Marketing Project, including teamwork, time management, researching on databases, the Internet and in the library, writing assignments, academic integrity, draft preparation of written assignments and giving oral presentations of progress.

You will also give your oral presentations during scheduled periods as indicated in the content schedule.

Class Contact Summary
Attendance

Your attendance in class will be marked twice during a four hour class. To receive full attendance, you must be present in the classroom on both occasions. Therefore, you are encouraged to attend and participate in all classes throughout the semester.

Participation in Class

You are expected to read the relevant chapter(s) and complete all work stated in the content schedule before the required class. This weekly preparation both in-class and independently will help in preparing you for the Mid-Semester and Final Examination. Weekly preparation will also help you to keep up-to-date with information required to develop the Team Marketing Project. Peer study groups can be useful in assisting with your weekly preparation.

You are expected to meet with your Team Marketing Project team members each week in and out of class, complete Team Meeting Diaries from each meeting and give progress updates to your tutor.

Consultant Times

Attendance during consultation times is optional but you are encouraged to use this extra help to improve your learning outcomes.

Course Materials

Lecture notes will be made available to you on the MyStudy site on the student portal and you are advised to print these out and bring them to each class so that extra notes can be added.

Independent Learning

You are expected to reinforce your learning from class time by undertaking sufficient independent study (approximately 6 hours per week outside of class time) so that you can achieve the learning outcomes of the course.

Program Progression

You are reminded that satisfactory Program Progression requires that attendance in classes is maintained at equal to or greater than 80%, and that GPA is maintained at equal to or greater than 3.5 [please see Griffith College Policy Library - Program Progression Policy - for more information].

Content Schedule

The following content schedule will allow you to remain up-to-date with your chapter readings each week, as well as guide you in your assignment progress. Please note that some tutorial and workshop activities may be altered to suit individual class learning needs.

Assessment Details

Relevant objectives are indicated in brackets.

There will be two examinations during the course. These are designed to test your knowledge and understanding of marketing and your ability to analyse and apply theory. The exams also provide opportunities to demonstrate your increasing integration and application of the knowledge and understanding you will be building throughout the course.

The Mid Semester Examination (WEEK 5) is intended to assess understanding of marketing concepts covered in the first half of the course, which will include Lectures 1-5 (objectives 1,2,3 & 5). Further information regarding the mid-semester exam will be provided during the lecture/tutorial in Week 4.

The Final Examination (WEEK 14 - 2 hours length) is intended to assess understanding and knowledge of the broad range of marketing concepts and the ability to integrate material covered in the course (1,2,3 & 5). Further information regarding the final exam will be provided during in the lecture/tutorial in Week 12 and 13.

The Team Project (campaign) is intended to develop communication and research skills, to integrate all the material in the course, to develop skills in working within a team and to demonstrate the ability to prepare a marketing project (objectives 1,2,3,4,5,6 & 7).

Part 1 of the project will be a presentation identifying the different markets the company can serve best, and most profitability will be undertaken in WEEK 7. Groups will discuss the different ways to segment the market and profile the resulting market segments. A clear, distinctive and desirable positioning statement relative to competing products is expected. WEEK 10 will see student groups presenting customer-driven marketing strategy that creates value for one identified specific target market.

In Part 2 the tactical action steps will turn planned strategy into reality. Students will be expected to take a practical approach to the delivery of a 'pitch' to the audience detailing practical implementation of the four Ps of the marketing mix in WEEK 10. (Product, Place, Promotion, Price).

Teacher feedback from the 'pitch' (presentation) will help students finalise the academic written report.
Part 3 the academic report is required for submission to 'Turn It In' in WEEK 11.

Submission and Return of Assessment Items

Normally you will be able to collect your assignments in class within fourteen [14] days of the due date for submission of the assignment.

Retention of Originals

You must be able to produce a copy of all work submitted if so requested. Copies should be retained until after the release of final results for the course.

Extensions

To apply for an extension of time for an assignment, you must submit an Application for Extension of Assignment form to your teacher at least 24 hours before the date the assignment is due. Grounds for extensions are usually serious illness, accident, disability, bereavement or other compassionate circumstances and must be able to be substantiated with relevant documentation [e.g. Griffith College Medical Certificate]. Please refer to the Griffith College website - Policy Library - for guidelines regarding extensions and deferred assessment.

Assessment Feedback

Marks awarded for assessment items will also be available on the on-line grades system on the Student Website within fourteen [14] days after the due date.

Generic Skills

Griffith College aims to develop graduates who have an open and critical approach to learning and a capacity for lifelong learning. Through engagement in their studies, students are provided with opportunities to begin the development of these and other generic skills.

Studies in this course will give you opportunities to begin to develop the following skills:

Additional Course Generic Skills

Additional Course Information

Your tutor is available each week to help you with your team marketing project. Assistance will be given in class or during consultation time. Consultation time is time for you each week to get help from your tutor outside of class time. You can come individually or with your team.

Teacher and Course Evaluation

Feedback from previous students undertaking this course has included their enjoyment of their tutorials. Students value the opportunity to receive feedback from verbally reporting to the tutorial class on the progress of their group report. An area noted for improvement was the acquisition of marketing language, particularly the marketing discipline’s terms and concepts. With the assistance of English language colleagues, progressive classroom and online activities are being developed to provide students the opportunity to learn discipline concepts at their own speed.

Your feedback is respected and valued by your lecturers and tutors. You are encouraged to provide your thoughts on the course and teaching, both positive and critical, directly to your lecturer and tutor or by completing course and lecturer evaluations via Griffith College’s online evaluation tool whenever these are available.

Academic Integrity

Griffith College is committed to maintaining high academic standards to protect the value of its qualifications. Academic integrity means acting with the values of honesty, trust, fairness, respect and responsibility in learning, teaching and research. It is important for students, teachers, researchers and all staff to act in an honest way, be responsible for their actions, and show fairness in every part of their work. Academic integrity is important for an individual’s and the College’s reputation.

All staff and students of the College are responsible for academic integrity. As a student, you are expected to conduct your studies honestly, ethically and in accordance with accepted standards of academic conduct. Any form of academic conduct that is contrary to these standards is considered a breach of academic integrity and is unacceptable.

Some students deliberately breach academic integrity standards with intent to deceive. This conscious, pre-meditated form of cheating is considered to be one of the most serious forms of fraudulent academic behaviour, for which the College has zero tolerance and for which penalties, including exclusion from the College, will be applied.

However, Griffith College also recognises many students breach academic integrity standards without intent to deceive. In these cases, students may be required to undertake additional educational activities to remediate their behaviour and may also be provided appropriate advice by academic staff.

As you undertake your studies at Griffith College, your lecturers, tutors and academic advisors will provide you with guidance to understand and maintain academic integrity; however, it is also your responsibility to seek out guidance if and when you are unsure about appropriate academic conduct.

Please ensure that you are familiar with the Griffith College Academic Integrity Policy; this policy provides an overview of some of the behaviours that are considered breaches of academic integrity, as well as the penalties and processes involved when a breach is identified.

For further information please refer to the Academic Integrity Policy on the Griffith College website – Policy Library.
